

Thermometer Principle:
*A thermometer
with epistemology
is impossible*

Irrationality Principle:
*One cannot deny
man's irrationality
in knowledge theories*

Emerson's Principle:
*Inconsistency,
in conjunction with knowledge,
can be possible*

Justification Principle:
*To possess knowledge,
satisfactory reasons
are necessary*

Quine/Whitman Principle:
*Agents are compound -
an analysis of them
should treat them as parts*

The Human Condition:
*Accounts of knowledge
should formulate foundations
in human nature*
